Projects

Team Structure

SAASC continued to utilize the team structure this year. In addition to the extant Events Team and Web Team, the Archeota Team was officially formed in the Fall 2016 semester. Team members are non-elected volunteers that are members of SAASC. The work of the teams is critical to the success of SAASC.

ScholarWorks Presence

SAASC Secretary Amanda Mellinger made it a priority to create a presence for SAASC on San José State University's ScholarWorks website. ScholarWorks is a digital institutional repository hosted by bepress where academic departments and student groups are able to host information within a secure platform. Many other San José State University iSchool student groups use ScholarWorks to archive their events and provide access to audio and video files after the initial collaborate recordings expire. Our ScholarWorks site enables us to archive Annual Reports, Archeota, and events on an additional platform outside of the website which is hosted by Weebly. SAASC's ScholarWorks site can be viewed here: <http://scholarworks.sjsu.edu/saasc/> All past annual reports and current issues of Archeota are already on ScholarWorks, and we're hoping to grow the event archive over the coming years.

YouTube Channel

Amanda Mellinger also created a YouTube page on which SAASC can store event recordings. Most webinars or online events are conducted through Blackboard Collaborate where events are recorded and saved for an academic year. Our own YouTube channel is beneficial since sharing is much easier than Blackboard Collaborate. A YouTube channel also ensures that we are able to host videos for a longer amount of time, ensuring that future chapter members can take advantage of previous events. Finally, it is easier to share with colleagues and presenters who may not be familiar with Blackboard Collaborate. We had a presenter during the Fall semester that wished to have access to a recording of her presentation for use on her CV and as evidence to continue her ACA certification; this is an excellent example of why YouTube links are much easier to manage than Blackboard Collaborate. An additional bonus is that YouTube videos can be added as streaming media to ScholarWorks entries. View our YouTube channel here:

Archeota

Veteran Archeota Managing Editor Catherine Folvovic graduated in December 2016. During the Fall 2016 semester, Catherine trained two new members of the Archeota Editorial Team. Kimberlee Frederick now serves as the Managing Editor and Jennifer Castle is an Editor. On May 8, 2017 SAASC successfully released the fifth issue of Archeota (Volume 3, Issue 1), our official publication and voice of the student archivists at SJSU. In 2017-2018 SAASC aims to increase participation and diversify content. Archeota can be viewed here:
